

Van den Hoven Voyager 50

Offering an abundance of sailing comfort at all speeds, the new Voyager 50 makes Van den Hoven Jachtbouw enter a whole new market. The configuration and sporty looks of this 50-footer will appeal to younger owners, with or without guests, while the single-level layout and low entry makes the yacht attractive to older clients too. The yacht will be extremely manoeuvrable and easy to sail, moor and operate, making it the ideal weekender for a quick trip. High comfort levels ensure the Voyager 50 is very suitable for longer stays on board too.

Although the exterior of the 15-metre 'coupé' yacht follows the concept of previous Voyagers, her compact and stretched lines make for a faster look. With a typically Mediterranean feel, the design by René van der Velden features a spacious open cockpit that will host lots of outdoor fun. The gangways provide plenty of space to move around safely, while the large yet cosy aft deck is perfect for al fresco lounging and dining with loved ones or guests.
